

MILITARY

The U.S. Military consists of five service branches: Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard. Joining the Military is a big decision; you should think carefully and talk with your family or a trusted adult as well as representatives from the Military as you consider your options.

THE BASICS

- You may have taken the ASVAB (Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery) during your junior or senior year of high school. This may help you think about careers that you might enjoy in the Military, and can be used for enlistment for up to two years after taking the test.
- You must have a high school diploma or GED to enlist.
- For those that serve, there are funds to help pay for college (such as the Post-9/11 GI Bill.)
- Explore todaysmilitary.com for more information.

BECOME AN OFFICER

- The Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) is a college program that prepares you to become an officer in the U.S. Military while you get a 4-year degree.
- Scholarships are available to cover tuition and living expenses in exchange for service after graduation.

MILITARY ACADEMIES

- Extremely elite and selective, the U.S. Military Academies require a congressional letter of recommendation in order to apply and a minimum service obligation of five years after graduation.
- See specific websites for more information; some admission requirements begin during the junior year.
